FOUR-POWER TREATY IS RATIFIED 67 TO 27

TREATY FOES LACK 4 VOTES ON ROLL CALL

Action Follows Day of Voting in Which Amendments All Failed

VICTORY FOR HARDING

12 Democrats Vote for and Four Republicans Against Agreement

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The four-power Pacific treaty was ratified today by the senate.

The vote on ratification was 67 to 27.

This was four more than the necessary two-thirds and the roll call showed 12 Democrats voting for ratification and four Republicans against ratification.

The dozen Democrats favoring ratification were Brossard, Dill, Fletcher, Kendrick, McKellar, Myers, Owen, Pomeroy, Randall, Trammell, Underwood and Williams.

G. O. P. OPPOSERS.
The four Republican opponents were Borah, France, Johnson and La Follette.

Two absent senators, Crow, Republican, Pennsylvania, and Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, were announced as supporters of the treaty.

Senate approval of the pact was voted after all proposed amendments and reservations except the "no alliance" declaration, accepted by President Harding, had been defeated.

ONE RESERVATION.
As incorporated in the resolution of ratification, the reservation says:

"The United States understands that under the terms of this treaty there is no commitment to armed force, no alliance, no obligation to join in any defense."

The Four-Power treaty is an agreement entered into between United States, Great Britain, Japan and France to preserve peace in the Pacific. Its adoption will mean the cancellation of the unpopular Anglo-Japanese treaty.

HARDING VICTORY.
Ratification by the senate today came after a score or more attempts to amend or add reservations to the treaty had proved unsuccessful.

This treaty was one result of the conference on disarmament called by President Harding. Ratification of this treaty is considered an indication of the administration's strength.

BUTTON IS REMOVED FROM BABY'S THROAT

PHILADELPHIA, March 24.—Three-year-old Ellen Louise Nettles of Pittsburg, Pa., who for four months had been able to breathe only through the four small holes in a button, lodged in her throat, today was well and happy as a result of an operation Thursday by physicians.

The child swallowed the button while playing last November and it lodged in her windpipe. Repeated efforts to dislodge it proved unavailing and difficulty of respiration frequently caused her great pain. Two minutes after she was placed on the operating table the button lay on the surgeon's hand and she was again breathing freely.

OLD SURRAT HOME ON AUCTION BLOCK

WASHINGTON, March 24.—A forlorn-looking, dark gray old house was placed on the auction block here Thursday but the auctioneer thought it was worth more than the bidder's bid. It was the home of Mrs. Mary Surritt, who was executed as one of the Lincoln conspirators, and it was in the little front parlor of the once-pretentious residence that the conspirators met and planned the death of the martyred president. The house, standing then in the center of the residential section, was used as a boarding house by Mrs. Surritt for many years prior to 1865.

GIRL FORBIDDEN TO TRY DARING STUNTS

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 24.—The English girl who has announced that on June 3 she will walk across Niagara river on a tight rope will not do any such thing, Mayor Thompson announced Thursday. The mayor said that under no circumstances would he permit any attempt to duplicate Blondin's feat.

After the death of Charles Stephens, the English barber who was killed last August trying to shoot the falls in a barrel, the city authorities declared that every precaution will be taken to prevent foolhardy feats of daring in the vicinity of the falls.

ATTORNEY FOR RICKARD SAYS HE HAS ALIBI

Apartment of Promoter Used as Storage Place of Liquor, Claim

NEW YORK, March 24.—Opening the defense, "Tex" Rickard, charged with criminally assaulting 15-year-old Sarah Schoenfeld, counsel for the sports promoter, today told the jury that a perfect alibi would be proved for November 12, 1921, the day of the alleged offense.

Max Steuer, chief defense counsel, also set forth that the apartments on West Forty-fifth street mentioned in connection with the case had been rented by Rickard while he was arranging the Dempsey-Willard fight in Toledo to store his liquor, because he saw prohibition coming. Rickard, Steuer said, never had been in the suite in his life, and had gone to the apartment house only twice to ascertain from the janitor that his cellar were O. K.

Rickard's counsel denied that the promoter ever had a girl motoring with either Sarah or 12-year-old Nellie Gasko, the corroborating witness for the prosecution.

KEPT DAILY RECORD.
Steuer said his client knew nothing of the two girls except that Sarah had once come to Madison Square garden with her mother to enlist his aid in obtaining the release of her brother, imprisoned in Milwaukee.

Outlining his defense, Steuer said that the prosecution would have to prove the offense occurred on the night of November 12, 1921, by the girl.

Although Rickard never kept a diary, Steuer added, he could always recall the past by looking at the record of events that had taken place at the garden and with a glance at the records to refresh his memory the promoter recalled that November 12 was an ordinary day in his life.

DAY'S EVENTS RELATED.
Steuer said he would show that in the morning Rickard went to the garden; that at 1:20 o'clock he went to the Polo Grounds to watch the Dartmouth-Pennsylvania football game; that later he had taken his guest and another woman to the dance at the garden and then returned home.

LIQUOR HIDDEN AWAY.
Steuer advanced an explanation for the testimony given Thursday by Herman Berch, janitor at the Forty-seventh street night club.

That he had returned home for dinner with Mrs. Rickard, as will be proven by the testimony of a young woman, who had been the Rickard week-end guest.

That Mrs. Rickard had been taken ill and a physician summoned.

That later he had taken his guest and another woman to the dance at the garden and then returned home.

7 MEMBERS OF ONE FAMILY SHOT IN ERIN

Belfast Stirred by Murderous Attack Upon Saloon Man's Home

SITUATION IS BAD

Army Convention to Be Held Sunday Despite Protests

BELFAST, March 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—A band of men forced their way into the home of Owen MacMahon, a saloonkeeper, early this morning and shot seven members of the family. News of the raid has stirred the city.

MacMahon and three of his sons were killed outright, another son died of his wounds, and two others are near death. The crime is thought to have been in reprisal for the shooting of a number of special constables in May street yesterday.

A six-hour running fight occurred between Ulster special constables and Sinn Feiners in the village of Carrackmore, County Tyrone, yesterday.

The fighting started when fifty of the police in motor lorries were ambushed outside the town. The ambushing party was concealed behind a horse bank on the roadside and opened fire at a distance of 1000 yards.

SHOTS EXCHANGED.
The police immediately jumped out of their cars and engaged the attacking band, which retreated across the fields. The pursuit continued for several hours with frequent exchanges of shots.

At least five Sinn Feiners are believed to be hit. One with a bullet in the leg was found under a house which was raided during the chase. Bullets pierced the caps of several of the specials, but none of them was wounded.

The police captured the leader of the ambushing party was captured.

THREAT OF REVOLT.
DUBLIN, March 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—The "open threat of revolution," signified by the decision of the anti-Free Staters to hold the forbidden Irish Republican army convention Sunday has "created a precarious position," the London Times correspondent here declares in a dispatch to his paper.

The statement by Commandant Doderick O'Connor Wednesday that 80 per cent of the army's members are against the treaty, however, the correspondent believes to be exaggerated.

He remarks that the call for the army convention was signed by only seven infantry commanders and that these mainly represent divisions in Cork and South Tipperary where disaffection was already known to exist.

LOYAL TO DAIR.
He believes that members of the army in Dublin, the Midlands and a large part of the west are loyal to the Dail Eireann and can be trusted in any emergency, and further, that the country is not likely to regard any vote taken at Sunday's meeting as a criterion of the general temper of the army.

No attempt to prevent holding of the convention is looked for on the part of the army general headquarters.

The Dail ministers believe the coming elections will result in a sweeping victory for the treaty and that therefore they will be able to deal firmly with any anti-Free State conspiracy.

The meeting place of the army convention has not been divulged.

Spooning In Church Gets Pastor's Okeh

SPOKANE, Wash., March 24.—Young people should be encouraged to make love in church, Dr. Ewen C. Brown of Los Angeles, editor of the Adult Publications of the Baptist church, declared in an address at a Baptist church conference here last night.

"Allow your Baptist young people's union meetings to be courting bees," he told the assembled pastors.

Dr. Brown said that courting should be encouraged at church functions to help the young people "make matches among themselves, in the midst of good Christian influences."

"Do you believe that our young people ought to be encouraged to spoon at their meetings?" Dr. Brown asked the meeting after stating his views.

The response generally was affirmative.

FATE OF BONUS BILL IN SENATE IS UNCERTAIN

President Harding's Attitude Toward Measure Puzzles

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Passed by the house late yesterday by a vote of 333 to 70, the soldiers' bonus bill was made ready today for the senate.

What would happen to it there was regarded as problematical, but house proponents proposed to use every effort to prevent it from being shelved, as was the original bonus measure.

In the long debate which preceded final vote in the house, some speakers predicted the senate would kill the bill, while others apparently were optimistic as to the chances of its passing in its present form.

Whatever its ultimate fate, it appeared fairly certain that the bill would slumber for quite a while at the other end of the capitol, where already the calendar is congested with treaties and annual supply bills with the permanent tariff bill yet unreported.

President Harding has been represented as looking with favor on the financing of the legislation with refunded foreign bonds provided they were laid before the bill was passed.

While the measure was in the making by the house ways and means committee, the executive, according to some of the members of that committee, suggested a delay of 90 days in the belief that the treasury would then be in possession of some of the British bonds.

There was some discussion in the house yesterday as to whether the president would approve the bill in its present form, with a conflict in the opinion expressed by Representative Longworth, Republican, Ohio, said that while he would not presume to speak for the executive, he had reason to believe that Mr. Harding would sign the house measure if it reached him without change.

On the other hand, Representative Snyder, Republican, New York, who said he had talked with Mr. Harding last week, declared he would be "exceedingly surprised if the executive signed it."

FRIENDS VISIT PRINCIPAL AT COUNTY JAIL

Murder Charge Likely If Victim of School Feud Dies

APPEARS DEPRESSED

Bullet Tears Hole Size of Egg Through Bybee's Liver

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, Dr. E. R. Dumke, attending physician for Lloyd Bybee, reported that pneumonia had set in as the result of the bullet passed through the lad's right lung and it was but a matter of a few hours until death.

He said that the boy might possibly live through the afternoon, but little hope was held that he would survive tonight.

The hospital reported that physicians now hold no hope for the lad since his collapse early yesterday afternoon. An examination disclosed that the bullet had torn a hole almost the size of an egg through the boy's liver and the lower portion of the lung was punctured so that air escaped in breathing and formed under the skin of his right side.

Restorative have been applied hourly since the relapse of yesterday and today it was said that the boy is not rallying but getting weaker from the infection that has begun to set in. Late this morning it was reported that Bybee cannot recover unless a sudden change for the better takes place at once.

Christensen is being held in the county jail without bond, pending the outcome of the condition of young Bybee. It was said today that the boy dies a charge of murder in the first degree will be filed against Christensen.

The principal is allowed to sit in a cell outside the jail proper during the daytime, but at night he is confined in the jail corridors. He is not kept in the tank as are the other prisoners.

APPEARS MOVED.
When Christensen was told this morning that there was but little hope for the recovery of his victim, he buried his face in his hands and appeared deeply moved. Yesterday the principal appeared to be in good spirits, but this morning he was depressed and appeared to be worried.

Christensen today would not talk freely and refused to answer many questions, declaring that he had told the entire side of his story in the statement he gave out yesterday. Apparently he has not forgotten the caution given him by his attorney, Geo. Halverson, to say nothing further about the shooting and the affair leading up to it.

Yesterday morning Christensen was asked if Bybee had anything in his hands when he walked toward him on the road just before the shooting. Christensen answered "no," before his attorney could prevent him. He was then asked what he meant when he said that "Bybee walked toward him in a threatening attitude." His attorney would not allow him to answer this question.

Christensen is at times allowed to leave his cell and walk out into the sheriff's office. His cell door is always unlocked and the scores of visitors who call to see him are allowed admittance and to remain as long as they desire. His friends almost hourly fill his cell with baskets of fruit and food and so far Christensen has not been compelled to eat the regular jail fare.

'IRISH TABLEWARE' POURED INTO SEWER

CHICAGO, March 24.—Postal clerks sorting dead letter parcels today found a package labeled "Knives and forks" mailed from Ireland to an untraceable Chicago destination.

Opening it to catalogue the contents for an auction, they discovered the Irish tableware had been distilled and bottled.

Two quarts of cutlery, according to official records, were then poured into the sewer.

FALSE RUMOR STARTS PANIC AMONG SAVERS

Bank Paying Out Money as Fast as Depositors Can Be Served

REWARD IS OFFERED

Police With Rifles Guard as Crowd Becomes Large and Frantic

CHICAGO, March 24.—Several women were crushed and trampled in a scramble of depositors of the Northwestern Trust & Savings bank on the northwest side of Chicago this morning. The run was said to have resulted from false rumors concerning the bank's financial strength.

Bank officials were paying out money as fast as the depositors could be served and other banks were said to be ready to supply all the cash needed.

ANGRY DEMANDS.
Depositors gathered in front of the bank last night and there were angry demands, when police arrived. Mr. Smulski informed the throng that the bank was safe and that all who desired could have their money in the morning.

Early today depositors began gathering at the bank again. The bank officials arrived early. Twelve policemen tried to keep the depositors in line.

POLICE ARE ARMED.
The crush became so great outside the bank finally that 100 policemen, 25 of them armed with rifles, were placed on duty there. Dozens of women were carried into the bank in a fainting condition.

The federal reserve of which the Northwestern is a member, sent $50,000 in an armored car to the bank. The Commercial and Commercial National bank sent $100,000.

A run of smaller proportions started today at the Second Northwestern Trust and Savings bank, a subsidiary of the Northwestern Trust and Savings bank.

POLICE OFFICERS OUSTED IN CLEANUP

LOS ANGELES, March 24.—Los Angeles is "just as wide open today" as it was when Chief of Police Everington was appointed to office several months ago, according to a statement he issued Thursday in connection with an order permanently suspending Captain W. L. Spellman of the central division, and Lieutenant A. W. Gifford in charge of the vice squad.

Alleged negligence and incompetence were given by the chief as the causes for suspension, which he stated, were based on the neglect of the two officers to carry out his instructions to close places of commercialized vice and gambling.

Chief Everington said: "In cleaning up the city I am going to start with the police force."

Both the suspended officers indicated they would appeal to the police commission. They have served nearly 20 years and soon would have been eligible for pensions.

EMPLOYEE WHIRLED IN WASHING MACHINE

EPHRAATA, Wash., March 24.—Frank Johnson, an employee of a local laundry, narrowly escaped death Wednesday night when a steam machine in which he was taking a bath after a fellow worker had left, was thrown into gear and he became imprisoned in the rapidly revolving tub and immersed in scalding water up to his neck.

After Johnson got into the tub he turned on steam to increase the temperature of the water. It was explained, and apparently his weight in the machine turned on the power. The momentum threw down the lid and he was released only when the owner of the laundry heard his cries and broke into the room.

Physicians expressed the belief that Johnson would recover.

STOLE MAIL BOX TO HALT WIFE'S LETTER

HAMILTON, Ont., March 24.—The police have found a large letter box in the rear of a barber shop in which Vasil Capera murdered his wife and ended his own life Thursday. It had been wrenched off a pole on a street corner near Capera's home.

It is the theory of the police that Capera thought his wife had mailed a letter in the box telling the police of his whisky still and that he took the whole box to prevent the letter from reaching the authorities.
